What is LaunchCode?

LaunchCode is a nonprofit organization that works with job seekers, educators, and employers to build the American workforce through apprenticeships and job placement in technology.

LaunchCode and TechHire have partnered to lead on-the-ground efforts to build the tech talent pipeline in Rhode Island.

What is TechHire?

TechHire Rhode Island is a state-wide initiative that increases access to well-paying information technology (IT) jobs and serves as a model for expanding the state's labor pool.

How does it work?

LaunchCode connects you with the right tech talent. Sign on as a LaunchCode company today to gain access to a new pipeline of talent and help Rhode Island build a 21st-century workforce.
